
ADDENDUM

The following paper is included in these proceedings in the interests of providing a complete summary of current data on the distribution and status of the eastern massasauga rattlesnake. Its late arrival in the publishing process necessitated an addendum rather than inclusion in the "current range" section of these proceedings. The editors wish to thank Alan Resetar for his contribution to the international conservation of this declining species.