

RATTLESNAKE GOES TO SCHOOL: Chris Parent, presently working at Killbear Park and doing research on his Master's degree at Carleton University, brought a Massasauga rattlesnake to Victory School to show the students of grades 3 to 6. He also spent extra time with the Environmental Club explaining about the work he is doing to help this endangered species.

The snake will be returned to where it was found.
