

Police Vulnerable Sector Check Requirements

Department of Teacher Education, Brock University

All teacher candidates – without exception – are required to have obtained an acceptable police records check with vulnerable sector screening by August 24, 2015. Teacher candidates who do not have an acceptable vulnerable sector screening by August 24, 2015 will forfeit their place in the Teacher Education Program and will be immediately de-registered from the program.

Police records checks must be:

- Dated no earlier than May 1, 2015 (records checks can be no older than six months prior to the first visit to a school);
- Include a vulnerable sector screening;
- Be the original copy and;
- Issued through your local police station.

Applying for the records check:

- When visiting a police station to apply for a police records check, ensure that you bring everything you need for the application process. Contact your local police service to determine what documentation is needed to apply for a records check with vulnerable sector screening.
- Please be aware that police services have different application processes. For example:
 - Niagara Regional Police
You will need a letter from the Department of Teacher Education in order to apply for a background check with vulnerable sector screening from the Niagara Regional Police. This letter will be sent to you by regular mail in May. Once you're ready to apply for your records check, take it to your local Niagara Regional Police station along with two pieces of acceptable government-issued identification.
 - Hamilton Police Service
You will need a letter from the Department of Teacher Education in order to apply for a background check with vulnerable sector screening (at the school placement rate) from the Hamilton Police Service. This letter will be sent to you by regular mail in May. Once you're ready to apply for your records check, take it to the Hamilton Police Services along with two pieces of acceptable government-issued identification.
 - Ontario Provincial Police
You will need a letter from the Department of Teacher Education in order to apply for a background check with vulnerable sector screening from the Ontario Provincial Police. This letter will be sent to you by regular mail in May. Once you're ready to apply for your records check, take it to your local Ontario Provincial Police detachment along with two pieces of acceptable government-issued identification.

- Other

If your local police station is not listed above and requires documentation to be filled out, please contact the Department of Teacher Education to have the forms filled out. Otherwise the Department of Teacher Education will send you a letter (stating that you have been accepted to the Teacher Education Program) to take with you to the police station.

Recommendations:

- We advise that you make an extra copy of your records check in case you are asked to submit the original document to a school administrator;
- We recommend that you apply for a police records check as soon as possible. The processing time for a check with vulnerable sector screening can be quite lengthy. You will not be able to enter a school until you have a police records check with vulnerable sector screening in your possession;
- We advise that you contact or visit the website of the police service you will be going to beforehand to know what documentation you will need to start the process (i.e., forms, letters, identification, etc.);
- Once you have the records check we ask that you do not send it to us. Please keep it secure so that you can bring it with you when you enter a school in September. We will require confirmation that you have your acceptable Police Records Check by August 24, 2015. More information on the confirmation process will be posted on our website on July 1, 2015. Please note that it is your responsibility to show (or submit) your completed check to your school principal or school board contact when you enter schools in September.
