Accessiblity

Youth University recognizes that people learn, interact with their environment and find meaning in a variety of different ways. Kinesthetic challenge such as high ropes climbing may be adventurous for some whereas sharing a new idea or creating art or music might be meaningful for others. At Youth University, we design our programs to effectively touch multiple learning styles including - verbal/linguistic, logical/mathematical, visual/spatial, musical/rhythmic, interpersonal, intrapersonal, naturalist and body/kinesthetic knowing. We celebrate the differences, unique skills and abilities of all our participants and endeavor to accommodate exceptional physical, behavior, and learning styles to the best of our ability. We work individually with parents and teachers to create a plan for each participant with exceptional needs. Please contact us in advance of your trip so that we can best meet the needs of your students.
