

Campus Safety

Brock University is well known as a safe and friendly campus. Even so, it is very important to have safety measures in place. On our campus you will find many different programs and services that help to keep our community safe.

Campus Security Services

The role of Brock University Campus Security Services is to enhance the quality of life on campus by preventing crime and preserving the peace of the campus community. These responsibilities are met by working cooperatively with everyone in the campus community.

The Campus Security office is located at the Kenmore Centre, across the street from the Walker Complex. You may call Campus Security Services both for general inquiries, at 905-688-5550 x4300, or for emergency situations at x3200. Office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday to Friday. However, Campus Security officers are on patrol 24 hours a day and may be reached at x3200 after hours.

Emergency Call Buttons

If you are in need of immediate assistance, there are security phones located in and around campus at more than 160 locations. Simply press the button, wait for the officer to answer, and state your problem. Campus Security can pinpoint your location and provide immediate assistance.

Escorts

If you are in need of an escort to your car, or you would like to have someone walk you back to your on-campus residence after dark, Campus Security Services provides this service. A request for an escort can be made through Campus Security Services by calling x3200 or using any emergency phone on campus.

Campus Watch

Campus Watch is an initiative involving the campus community in co-operation with the police, aimed at maintaining a safe community in which to live, work, and learn. While our campus is safe, involvement in this program serves as an added deterrent. Campus Watch provides a means of reducing the opportunity for crime to occur through the active participation of the community in crime prevention. The initiative also helps to coordinate the efforts of the police and the community in tracking down violators. Strong community involvement is encouraged to deter crime.

Residence Community Patrol

Safety is of prime importance when living on campus and you can feel comfortable knowing that we go to great lengths to ensure a safe residence environment. In addition to Campus Security Services, Brock residences also employ their own student Residence Community Patrol staff, who are on duty nightly from 10 p.m. to 3 a.m.

Student staff are responsible for residence floor and courtyard patrols and enlisting the assistance of Campus Security Services should the need arise. They also uphold the rules and regulations of residence while maintaining the overall safety within the residence.

Student Event Risk Management

Risk management allows Student Services to effectively manage risk for any event held on campus. All non-academic events organized for students, that are not part of the daily activities of a department, must go through a series of procedures in order to make certain that everyone's safety will be assured.

Student Code of Conduct

Brock endeavours to provide a learning environment of the highest quality; one that is supportive of scholarship and research and free from stereotyping, harassment, and discrimination. The Student Code of Conduct outlines students' responsibilities, rights and privileges, unacceptable behaviour, and also the disciplinary procedures for dealing with infractions of the code.

For more information, contact the Manager of Residence Life and Student Affairs at x4041.

Human Rights and Equity Services

The Office of Human Rights and Equity Services (HRES) actively works to promote a respectful and inclusive work and learning community on campus that is free of harassment and discrimination. However, situations may still arise in which you need further assistance. The HRES provides education, advice and support for students on preventing harassment and on dealing with situations in which the potential for harassment exists, such as conflicts with partners, friends, roommates and classmates. In addition, the HRES provides confidential support and advice in quickly addressing incidents of harassment on campus and linking students to additional resources so that you can return your focus to your academic career.
