With a Masters in Botany and Plant Ecology as well as a Ph.D. in Agronomy specializing in soil science and plant nutrition “Dr. Dirt” comes to Niagara well prepared.

For more than ten years Daniel has been the a Viticultural Consultant for his company - Integrated Winegrowing - evaluating viticulture land and design as well as expertise into pruning, canopy management, irrigation, fertilization and harvest for more than 25 vineyards throughout California (Napa, Sonoma, Santa Cruz and Santa Barbara Counties) also in Oregon and Virginia. Simultaneously, as the Director of Winegrowing for Kendall-Jackson from 1996 to 2004, he worked with vineyard clients throughout California, Chile, Argentina, Australia and Italy as to land evaluation, vineyard design, vineyard development and technique management. The established vineyards were assessed as to pruning, canopy management, irrigation fertilization and harvest. Previously Daniel's impressive c.v. includes being the Viticulturist and Grower Relations Manager for Sterling Vineyards; Vineyard Manager for Field Stone Winery; and Viticulturist for Renaissance Vineyards.
