Resume

Dr David Jordan

BHortSci (Hons) Lincoln University.
PhD (Vine Physiology) Oregon State University

Dr Jordan is a well-known viticultural consultant based in Auckland with premium wine producing clients throughout New Zealand and Australia. He has twenty-two years experience of working in the grape and wine industry.

Dr Jordan operates Vine to Wine that he established in 1994. Prior to establishing Vine to Wine he was the National Viticultural Research Scientist for government research institutes of MAF and HortResearch.

Dr Jordan's tertiary qualifications include a PhD from Oregon State University, USA, (Research in to an improved understanding of the physiology associated with fruit set disorders in grapevines) and a Bachelor of Horticulture Science (Honours) from Lincoln University, New Zealand.

Dr Jordan's viticultural philosophies reflect a blend of an understanding of vines and commercial frameworks. He was at the forefront and continues to have input in to the very successful Sustainable Winegrowing of New Zealand program that has promoted sustainable vineyard practises.

As well as a range of vineyard related inputs, Dr Jordan provides independent review of vineyards and vineyard developments for new and established wine businesses.
