

120th Convocation for the Conferring of Degrees and Certificates

Friday, October 16, 2026

Congratulations

Class of 2026

History of Brock University

Opened in 1964, Brock University is named for Major-General Sir Isaac Brock, who died in battle at nearby Queenston Heights in the War of 1812. Brock's final words were said to have been "Push on, my brave fellows!" A Latin translation of this is "Surgite!" — which is Brock University's motto.

The seeds of the University were sown long before the doors first opened. Brock's story is about a community that rose up and built the institution it wanted for its future.

In the late 1950s, there was growing public discussion about how Niagara should have its own university. The grassroots sentiment became a movement in 1957 when the Allanburg Women's Institute asked the Ontario government to consider opening a university in the region.

By fall 1962, the Brock Founders Committee was incorporated. They received approval to create a new university, then developed an administrative and academic plan. Then they began raising money.

After years of meetings and fundraising, Brock opened in September 1964. It had 127 students in a refurbished refrigeration factory at the foot of the Niagara Escarpment in St. Catharines. In 1966, the landmark Brock Tower was completed, and Faculties began moving "up the hill" to the University's permanent home atop the Niagara Escarpment.

For the next 30 years, Brock sent thousands of graduates on to successful careers. It built a name for its personal quality of teaching afforded by attentive faculty and controlled class sizes. As the new millennium dawned, enrolment soared. Brock transformed from an undergraduate institute to a comprehensive University with flourishing research, graduate and doctoral programs.

The campus steadily expanded to keep pace with the demand for a Brock education with the construction of world-class research labs, a landmark fine arts complex, an international students' centre and a new research and innovation hub.

Brock serves its community as a cultural, academic and recreational centre, bringing excellent facilities to the people who created the University all those years ago. We are committed to building our community and fostering an environment that serves our students and our neighbours.

The modern university is the lineal descendant of the university of the Middle Ages. Its purposes and organization, even much of its ceremonial role, are medieval in origin.

Today's ceremony stems from the medieval tradition. The procession of the guild of teachers, whose solemn assembly, or Convocation, is the modern equivalent of the full congregation of all Faculties, is followed by the Chancellor and the Mace, the symbol of the University's corporate authority. The academic gowns, hoods and caps declare in their various designs and colours the academic qualifications of the faculty. The citations and presentations by the faculty to the Chancellor attest to the Chancellor and to society the degree of proficiency attained by the students of the University.

The Chancellor confers upon the students the appropriate degree. It is the act, not a certificate, which constitutes the validity of the degree bestowed. The statement "I admit you" and the placing of the students' hands within those of the Chancellor and his associates, bind the students to the University. They receive what the University has been and what it is today. The graduates are what the University hopes to be.

The University flag

Our flag is the Banner of Arms of the Grant of Arms to Brock University, granted on March 17, 1965. The main feature on the flag is a gold-winged eagle with the book of learning on its breast. Yellow and red are colours associated with academic institutions and the eagle was once thought to be the bird that flew the highest and was the wisest.

The top of the flag includes the maple leaf, representing Canada; a trillium representing Ontario and a shell (escallop)-a symbol long associated with the Lincoln-Welland Regiment and the County of Welland. The flag, donated by the members of Brock's 1994 Quarter Century Club, stands on the stage for each Convocation ceremony and is flown daily on campus.

The University mace

Maces were originally specialized war clubs, made of metal or garnished with metal spikes used by knights or other warriors.

This functional weapon evolved into a symbolic emblem of legislative and civic authority used by cities and towns and, ultimately, by parliament. Many universities have decorated maces as symbols of their corporate identity and authority.

Brock was presented with its mace in 1992 as a gift from the people of the Bailiwick of Guernsey, the birthplace of Major-General Sir Isaac Brock.

It is made of sterling silver and incorporates the Guernsey seal; the University crest; a crown from the Constable's baton; flames of learning from the University's coat of arms, a maple leaf, scallop shell and Trillium flower, which are symbols of the University; and a button from the uniform of Brock's 49th regiment.

Eagle Feather Staff

The Eagle Feather Staff, Niiganninaatig, from the Anishinaabemowin language meaning "the one that leads the ceremony," is sacred and clears the way for everything that comes after it.

This Eagle Feather Staff is guided by the concept of principles and values of the (Haudenosaunee) Good Mind – in kind and loving thoughts and the (Anishinabek) Seven Grandfather Teachings – Humility, Bravery, Honesty, Wisdom, Truth, Respect, and love creating a circle of unity. Although an Eagle Feather Staff is not part of Inuit Culture, this staff also represents the guiding principles of the Inuit: working for the common good, living in respectful relationships, maintaining harmony, planning for the future.

This Eagle Feather Staff was created for the Hadiya'dagénhahs First Nations, Métis and Inuit Student Centre at Brock University by Nipissing First Nation Elder Abiidaasmosede, Peter Beaucage, and includes four beaded medallions by Cayuga and Tuscarora beadwork artist Mary Annette Printup-Clause.

It is representative of the responsibilities in Brock University Strategic Priorities in addressing their dedication and obligations in Decolonizing the Institution from an Indigenous perspective.

During the ceremony, the staff faces east to represent new beginnings.

Beta Gamma Sigma

Beta Gamma Sigma is the international honour society serving business programs accredited by AACSB International (The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business). Membership in BGS is the highest recognition a student can receive in an AACSB-accredited business program. The Goodman School of Business earned AACSB accreditation in 2002 and established its Beta Gamma Sigma chapter in 2004, joining a global network of leading business schools.

Membership is reserved for students who demonstrate exceptional academic achievement. At Goodman, invitations are extended to:

- The top 10% of undergraduate students in the Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) and Bachelor of Accounting (BAcc) programs, including eligible students who are graduating and those who have completed 10 to 16 credits.
- The top 20% of graduate students in the MBA, MAcc, MPAcc, and MSc programs, including eligible students who have completed five credits and those who are graduating.

Eligibility is determined based on overall academic performance and class standing. Students inducted into BGS join a global network of distinguished business leaders, executives, entrepreneurs, faculty members, and alumni committed to excellence in business education and leadership.

Ambearrister

An 'Ambearrister' was gifted to Brock University in 2020 by Dr. Cindy Blackstock, Director of First Nations Child and Family Caring Society (FNCFC). This bear, an extension of the 'Reconciliation Ambearrister' program, is an initiative and resource created by the Caring Society to address inequalities of Indigenous children, youth and families. Today, this program extends itself to uplift reconciliation efforts from all peoples, recognizing that if reconciliation is to take place it must reside within each and everyone. The program also acknowledges that reconciliation and "addressing discrimination takes love, honesty, compassion and a real commitment to helping others do the right thing" (FNCFC). Under the guidance of an Elder, Brock's 'Ambearrister' received their name: Entiohahathé'te (It will be a bright road/path). Entiohahathé'te is meant to help us move forward and do work that supports these words. More importantly, they encourage thought on how we can act on these words and make ideas and concepts surrounding reconciliation a reality at Brock University. Entiohahathé'te will also be a gentle reminder for the University to commit to the Calls for Action offered by the Truth and Reconciliation Commission.

Entiohahathé'te's has found a home in The Phyllis Webstad Library located in Hadiya'dagénhahs First Nations, Métis and Inuit Student Centre.

Campus Wide Co-Curriculum

The Campus-Wide Co-Curriculum is a program designed to enhance the Brock student experience through the completion of activities and opportunities within 10 different co-curricular domains.

By completing the Campus-Wide Co-Curriculum, a student has made a meaningful investment in their holistic development and has demonstrated a significant commitment to continuous learning and personal growth.

This distinction is acknowledged by a red cord worn by the graduand.

Academic regalia

Academic regalia at Convocation is steeped in tradition. All participants wear gowns, which are reminiscent of the robes worn by monks or clergy in medieval times. Hoods, worn draped over the shoulders and back, are derivatives of the simple coverings worn by people of all classes to keep their heads warm in an inhospitable climate.

The Chancellor's gown is made from 100% natural tropical wool and trimmed with gold lace. It is worn with a round velvet cap with a gold tassel. The Vice-Chancellor's gown is similar, but trimmed with silver. The University coat-of-arms is embroidered on the front facing of each gown. Honorary doctors wear gowns made of blue material with gold facings down the front and on each sleeve.

Faculty members wear the academic regalia appropriate to their degrees. Most doctoral gowns are more than one colour and many have three horizontal bars of velvet on each sleeve. Hoods signify the degrees and institutions from which they were received. Since Brock has faculty who graduated from scores of different universities, the Convocation procession is dramatic and colourful.

Honour cords

Honour cords are worn by graduands meeting the following criteria:

Graduands who have completed a 20-credit honours program with first-class honours standing, which requires a minimum 80 per cent average in all major credits and a minimum of 70 per cent in the remaining credits. As well, a transfer student must have completed a minimum of five credits at Brock University, including all departmental honours requirements for Year 4 and have maintained a minimum 75 per cent overall average and a minimum 80 per cent major average (based on Brock courses only).

or:

Graduands who have completed the approved 15-credit pass degree or 20-credit non-honours degree with a minimum 80 per cent overall average. Transfer students require a minimum 80 per cent cumulative average in all Brock courses and a minimum 80 per cent overall average.

Message of congratulations

Hilary Pearson

Chancellor

Congratulations, Class of 2026!

Today is a celebration of your achievements and the possibilities that lie ahead. It is also an opportunity to reflect on the experiences that have helped shape who you are today.

As you begin your next chapter, you enter a rapidly changing world facing complex challenges. Your ability to think critically, consider different perspectives and approach problems with creativity will serve you well.

Your time at Brock has been about more than earning a degree. It has been an opportunity to discover new interests, build lasting connections and gain a deeper understanding of the world around you.

Today, you join more than 130,000 Brock alumni who are making meaningful contributions to communities across Niagara, Canada and beyond.

I encourage you to remain curious, embrace new opportunities and find ways to make a positive difference in the lives of others.

On behalf of Brock University, congratulations on this important milestone. I wish you every success in the years ahead.

Lesley Rigg

President and Vice-Chancellor

Congratulations to the Class of 2026!

Today marks an important milestone and the culmination of your hard work and dedication. Your journey has brought challenges and successes, each contributing to the knowledge, resilience and confidence you will carry into the future.

At Brock, we believe in the transformative power of education and the important role universities play in advancing society. The discoveries made and connections formed on our campuses extend well beyond the University, helping strengthen communities and improve lives.

As Brock graduates, you now have an opportunity to help shape what comes next.

Whether you pursue further education, begin your career or follow an entirely different path, I hope you draw on the experiences and relationships from your time at Brock as you build your future.

Although your time as a student may be ending, your connection to Brock will continue. We look forward to celebrating your achievements and the impact you will make.

Congratulations once again. You will always be part of the Brock community.

Anne McCourt

Chair, Board of Trustees

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, it is my great pleasure to congratulate you on your graduation from Brock University. The past few years have been filled with hard work, unforgettable experiences, and lasting memories. During this time, you have grown, learned and prepared yourself for the challenges and opportunities ahead. Brock has provided you with the knowledge, skills, and experiences to succeed in your future endeavours, and the degree you now hold is a key that opens the door to a lifetime of opportunities. As you take this next step, know that you join a vibrant community of Brock alumni who are making a difference around the world.

May the friendships, lessons, and memories you carry from Brock University guide and inspire you as you contribute to the communities you are part of. We encourage you to stay connected, share your journey, and return to visit whenever you can.

Live fully, lead boldly, and help shape a better world. Surgite!

Chris Yendt

President, Brock University
Alumni Association

In 1967, the first 39 students at Brock University became the first alumni at their Convocation. Today, you join more than 130,000 alumni proud alumni who are willing to connect with you, mentor you and build a supportive community that advocates for our collective successes as a member of the Brock University Alumni Association (BUAA). Brock is a place where passion meets opportunity — a place where you can make your own path and your own meaning. You were tenacious and accomplished so much as students. You earned this moment today. Grabbing hold of these opportunities is what gives Brock students their Badger Spirit. As you enjoy your first day as a member of the BUAA, remember to continue cultivating your Badger Spirit. The BUAA is here to be your home when you want to come back and visit, create opportunities for you to stay engaged and be your biggest cheerleader as you enter the next phases of life. We are so proud of all you've done so far, and we can't wait to see what you do next. Congratulations, and welcome to the alumni family. Surgite!

Eric O'Neill

President, Graduate Students'
Association

On behalf of the Graduate Students' Association, I want to extend a sincere congratulations to all of you for this significant accomplishment. Getting to this point took real time and real effort. Completing a degree, especially a graduate degree, requires hard work and dedication, and you've likely navigated your share of setbacks and more than a few moments of self-doubt, but you came out on the other side.

Beyond your degree, I hope you leave Brock with something less tangible but just as valuable — the relationships you built, the conversations that challenged how you think, and the habit of staying curious will carry further than any credential.

And before you move onto your next chapter, make sure you find some time to take a break: you've earned it!

Aaliyah Ariella

President, Brock University
Students' Union

On behalf of BUSU and myself, I'd like to congratulate you on your fantastic achievement. I understand that the journey here was not always simple. It was filled with sleepless nights, long hours of assignments, hectic deadlines, group projects, exam season worry, and much-needed library breaks just to grab more coffee and keep going.

There were certainly times when you wondered if you'd make it through, but you kept showing up. You persevered through the difficult weeks, balanced your obligations, encouraged one another, the friendships made, and the overall drive to keep going. That kind of determination is remarkable.

Today isn't only about finishing your degree. It is about appreciating the development, resilience, and hard work required to get here. You made it through, and you deserve to enjoy every aspect of your success.

Congratulations, Class of 2026!

Conferring of Degrees and Certificates

The President and Vice-Chancellor will request the graduands to rise in their places and, when they have done so, will address them as follows:

"With the Degrees about to be conferred upon you there comes a certain expectation that you will continue sincerely in the pursuit of learning and truth and, that as far as in you lies, you will promote the interests and welfare of your University."

“Do you acknowledge this expectation?”

The graduands will answer in unison:

“We do.”

The President and Vice-Chancellor will then address the Chancellor as follows:

“Madam Chancellor, as the candidates have acknowledged the responsibilities that accompany their degrees and certificates and, as they have successfully completed the courses of study prescribed by Senate, I would ask that you admit them to their several degrees and certificates.”

The Chancellor says:

“I admit you. Please be seated.”

Conferring of Degrees and Certificates

The President and Vice-Chancellor will request the graduands to rise in their places and, when they have done so, will address them as follows:

"With the Degrees about to be conferred upon you there comes a certain expectation that you will continue sincerely in the pursuit of learning and truth and, that as far as in you lies, you will promote the interests and welfare of your University."

"Do you acknowledge this expectation?"

The graduands will answer in unison:

“We do.”

The President and Vice-Chancellor will then address the Chancellor as follows:

“Madam Chancellor, as the candidates have acknowledged the responsibilities that accompany their degrees and certificates and, as they have successfully completed the courses of study prescribed by Senate, I would ask that you admit them to their several degrees and certificates.”

The Chancellor says:

“I admit you. Please be seated.”
