Did you know that 95% of all cyber security incidents involve human error?

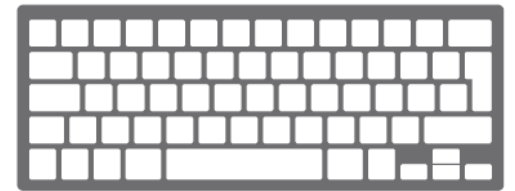

THINK

before you click

- Phishing attempts may appear to be from people you know!
- Do not open suspicious links in the email
- Be suspicious of any email that requires immediate action

- Don't be tricked into giving away confidential information
- Don't respond to emails requesting confidential information or your credentials. Emails requesting confidential information are fake

- Use different strong passwords for each system and service and never share passwords
- Encrypt sensitive data saved on your computer and keep your software up-to-date
