

Internet of Things

The latest target of hackers.

Newer “smart” televisions, routers, thermostats, locks, lighting, and home appliances which connect to the Internet are the latest targets for hackers.

- Be aware of which devices are connected to your home network
- Minimize unnecessary exposure to the Internet
- Replace default passwords with unique, strong passwords for each device — including your wireless router
- Keep devices up to date

THINK