

Females in Health Occupations*

As a percentage of the total female labour force

**Occupations in this broad occupational category are primarily concerned with providing health care services directly to patients and providing support to health care delivery.*

