

Males in Health Occupations*

As a percentage of the total male labour force

Occupations in this broad occupational category are primarily concerned with providing health care services directly to patients and providing support to health care delivery.*

