

MEDEA

An ancient Greek tragedy crashes against the shores of modern life and lingers in televised ruins.

by Euripides directed by Natalie Alvarez designed by David Vivian November 13, 14, 15, 2008

This November the Department of Dramatic Arts presents a stunning new interpretation of MEDEA.

Directed by Natalie Alvarez and designed by David Vivian, this original production will not look like any other Greek play you have ever seen.

Come back here soon for the definitive guide MEDEA for Students, and come to see our show.

Opens November 13, 2008, in the Sean O'Sullivan Theatre of the Centre for the Arts at Brock University.
