

Marilyn I. Walker
School of Fine &
Performing Arts

Brock University
Faculty of Humanities

DART 1F01: Acting for Non-Majors

Online, July 2-29, 2020

Enliven your TikTok feed, gain the confidence of your own creativity, study acting with the Department of Dramatic Arts!

This course in 'extreme monologuing' is designed to challenge you to discover the basic underlying principles of acting. Over the course of the intensive experience we explore core elements of the actor's process.

We have developed an exciting new online version of this course drawing on expertise of actor trainers around the globe. The course consists of 24 modules involving video, reading, and writing. Performance submissions (in the form of three separate monologues throughout the course) will be made to the teaching team by video, and there are no specific class times. You can proceed at your own pace though the course during the month-long duration (July). The instructor will be available regularly by phone or video to provide assistance as necessary.

For more information:

David Fancy dfancy@brocku.ca

Please register before July 1, 2020

Marilyn I. Walker
School of Fine &
Performing Arts

Brock University
Faculty of Humanities

DART 1F01: Acting for Non-Majors

Online, July 2-29, 2020

Enliven your TikTok feed, gain the confidence of your own creativity, study acting with the Department of Dramatic Arts!

This course in 'extreme monologuing' is designed to challenge you to discover the basic underlying principles of acting. Over the course of the intensive experience we explore core elements of the actor's process.

We have developed an exciting new online version of this course drawing on expertise of actor trainers around the globe. The course consists of 24 modules involving video, reading, and writing. Performance submissions (in the form of three separate monologues throughout the course) will be made to the teaching team by video, and there are no specific class times. You can proceed at your own pace though the course during the month-long duration (July). The instructor will be available regularly by phone or video to provide assistance as necessary.

For more information:

David Fancy dfancy@brocku.ca

Please register before July 1, 2020