

Department of Music
Guest Recital

Indigenous Voices
Ohnia:kara Singers

Tuesday, November 1, 2022
The Recital Hall, FirstOntario Performing Arts Centre

Program

Indigenous Voices

An exhibition of Traditional song and dance from a variety of origins that has been here on Turtle Island, North America, for time immemorial. Offering Traditional knowledge to the origins will allow the listeners to understand and appreciate the true value of music from a communal perspective.

Ohnia:kara (Oh-nee-ag-ah-rah) Is a Mohawk word which translates to the neck between the two bodies of water Lake Erie and Ontario, it is also the root origin of the word Niagara!

Ohnia:kara Singers and dancers have been sharing their love and connection to their own origins through song and dance for decades locally and beyond to audiences of all ages with the goal of building relationships and understanding through music.

Performers

Phil Davis, Gary Parker,
Joe Shawana, Lucas Shawana,
Shyann Jenkins

The Department of Music
Marilyn I. Walker School of Fine and Performing Arts
Next Music@Noon - Tuesday, November 8, 2022
Leanne Vida, soprano and Erika Reiman, piano