

VISA 3F99 HONOURS TUTORIAL APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS & EXPECTATIONS

STUDIO

*Deadline for application submission: Spring/Summer March 31 / Fall/Winter May 1

The Honours Tutorial in Visual Arts is defined as advanced study in an area of mutual interest to the student and the instructor. This is an independent studio course in which the student works under the supervision of a faculty member who has agreed to take this role. The creative/academic aims and learning outcomes of a 3F99 Honours Tutorial are defined by the student, in consultation with the faculty supervisor. This course option is designed to facilitate independent, sustained creative work that develops new knowledge (concepts, methodologies and theoretical approaches) with critical/discursive components. Honours Tutorials are intended to support study and creative activity not normally offered in other VISA courses.

Students selected for an Honours Tutorial will be given an override to register in this course. They will work with their faculty supervisor (full-time faculty only) to develop a course outline that defines the learning and work objectives; what work is to be accomplished; a schedule of student-supervisor meetings, with work milestones and due dates; and a method and criteria for evaluation. The workload should be equivalent to a full credit course (two terms).

In addition to the approval of the Department, Students must have an average of 75 in their major with 12 credits completed before the course begins.

To apply, please complete the 3F99 Honours Tutorial application form and all items listed on the application checklist. Submit all items as attachments in a single email.
