

Goodman School of Business Thought Paper

Weighting: 5%

Requirements:

Each student will write and submit a two-page (maximum, double-spaced) thought paper that focusses on what you learned during the experiential component of this course. This thought paper is not to be a retelling or summary of your project, nor the findings/recommendations you or your team made but rather a reflection on the overall experience.

You can choose to focus on one aspect of this project that impacted you; as a learner, as a future business professional, as a team member, as a member of your community, how it strengthened specific skills and/or competencies, etc. You may wish to speak about any of the following:

- Career awareness
- Personal development
- Skill development
- Dispute/conflict resolution
- Leadership
- Community interaction
- Deeper understand of course concepts

You are also welcome to reflect on challenges that this project presented to you/your team and how you overcame those challenges (or did not). However, this is not meant to be used as a medium to vent about your team, the course, or your instructor. Doing so will negatively impact your grade on this component.

This is an individual assignment, one that you earn an independent grade for completing. It is expected that you work on this independently and not discuss your work with other students.

Format:

- 2 pages double spaced
- No cover sheet required, but please indicate your name and student number at the top of the page
- Individually submitted via Sakai - assignments tab
- Grammar, spelling, and report set up will be taken into consideration in your overall grade.

Evaluation:

- Student shows evidence of thought, growth, deeper understanding
- Student clearly reacts and provides an emotion driven response to an event/aspect of the project
- Simply retelling what happened will equate to only 50%
