

Badger Cleaning 101

-THE LIVING ROOM -

Ok so I'm really nerding out on Badgers right now.

Got some new fact for me today I'm guessing?

YES. DEAL WITH IT MARK.

OK OK. What else about badgers?

Badgers sometimes share their borrows with other ANIMALS. Like rabbits, porcupines and foxes. FOXES MARK. They learn to live with each other just like we all did when we met in September! Seriously, this is a good mascot for a university.

Supplies You'll Need

Duster	All purpose cleaner (bought or homemade)
Broom/Dust Pan	Cleaning Cloth/Paper towels
Vacuum	Baking Soda

If you drew the straw for cleaning the living room, CONGRATULATIONS! This fun area is likely filled with activities you can reward yourself with after you're done sprucing it up. So get to work!

Where do I Start?

1. You already have by reading this!
2. The most popular of steps, de-clutter the area! Have everyone in your house remove their items that don't normally reside in the living room.
3. It's best to work top down, look up! Dust away cop webs on the ceiling, lights, around the windows
4. Next, what's going on with your walls? Do they look like a Jackson Pollock (google it)? Give them a wipe down with your water/vinegar solution if you have splatter marks or spills.
5. Furniture! Take your handy duster (or a damp cloth) and wipe down the edges/rails/nooks/crannies of your couches, chairs, tables, and electronics.
6. Grab your all purpose cleaner (homemade or not) and spray all surfaces and give them wipe down.
7. Vacuum your carpet!! Village students, you have a vacuum in the storage room. Plug in the hose to the closest wall port and turn it on! For Quarry View students, hopefully one of you brought a vacuum, if not you could use a broom with stiff bristles to sweep up big stuff. The North Desk in Earp also has vacuums that can be signed out on a short term basis.

Tips for the a full out SUPER Clean

Windows	Use glass cleaner or vinegar & water mix to clean the glass and window frames. Don't forget about your blinds - if they have splatter, clean with all purpose cleaner.
Vents	If your vents are in your floor, they likely have some debris inside. Pull out vent cover and vacuum inside.
Carpets	Spot clean discoloured areas with a mixture of vinegar, dish soap and warm water and scrub into area, pat dry. You can also use baking soda on a new spill to draw out liquid then just vacuum up! Grab some dollar store shoe trays to avoid salt stains on carpets!
Vacuums	For Village - your vacuum has a canister that collects dirt in the storage room. When it is getting full, twist, detach and empty into garbage bag, but do it outside...it gets dusty.
