Describe the Department of Communication, Popular Culture and Film in three words?

Fun, positive, helpful.

What makes Brock's Department of CPCF stand out for you?

I think CPCF has a positive and warm atmosphere. The people I met and the friends I made are genuine and kind, and many classes are fun and engaging.

What is the most important thing you learned while you were studying within the department?

Life does not end with the university graduation, it is the beginning of another life, and everything you learn in university helps you to prepare for your career.

What advice do you have for current students who want to make the most out of their experience in CPCF at Brock?

Join events and clubs, make friends, participate in seminars and classes, and read the textbooks.

What advice would you give to someone who is considering pursuing a CPCF degree?

CPCF is a very broad degree, and it helps you to prepare for various fields.

Where are you from? What is your hometown?

I have a Chinese background, but I have been living in Ontario, Canada since 2010. My hometown is Newmarket.
