

WOMEN IN HOUSE

Testimonials

"Brock Women in House gave me the chance to learn about the realities of political life for women. I had the privilege to shadow Peggy Nash of the NDP for the day. Luckily, I had the opportunity to sit in on two committee meetings, a press conference and much more. It was an honour to be in the presence of such a hardworking female parliamentarian. I got the most out of my time on the hill, and I can't thank Brock Women in House enough!"

- Roxanna Eskandarpour

"Women in House was an amazing experience. I was able to spend the day with an inspiring politician who has had an 18 year career in the House of Commons. She was engaging and open about barriers she faced as a woman on the hill and continues to maintain contact with me! Definitely a highlight of my time at Brock."

- Kara Emberson

Women in House is a new initiative at Brock University which aims to increase female engagement and representation in politics. In order to do so, Women in House takes Brock students (both undergrad and grad), to Ottawa to shadow a female MP throughout her day. This gives students first hand experience and face to face contact with women who live life on the hill.

Information

Participants are required to fill out an application on why they wish to participate and what they hope to gain from the experience. Approved applications are chosen anonymously.

Applications will open in October and be due November 29th.

Women in House is open to students from any faculty and degree level (both undergrad and grad). Students must be in at least 2nd year to participate in Women in House.

This trip is organized and run entirely by students. If you would like to be involved in the organization of the trip, please contact us via email.
