Our Two New Faculty Members Caitlin Mahy & Liz Shulman will be joining us in July 2014

Caitlin Mahy...

is a developmental psychologist who studies cognitive development across the lifespan with a focus on the development of future-oriented cognition and the influence that executive functioning and social understanding have on these abilities.

Elizabeth Shulman...

is a developmental psychologist who specializes in the study of adolescence. Liz examines psychosocial development during the transition from childhood to adulthood and how it relates to decision-making, risktaking, and crime.

Postdoctoral Fellows

joined Cathy Mondloch's lab this year funded by a Discovery Supplement Award (NSERC). Sarah examines the perceptual mechanisms underlying face recognition.

Dr. Nour Kteily (PhD, Harvard University)...
