Moving Forward: a Strategic Plan for the Faculty of Social Sciences 2021–2026
Land Acknowledgement

Brock University is situated on the traditional territory of the Haudenosaunee and Anishinaabe peoples, many of whom continue to live and work here today. This territory is covered by the Upper Canada Treaties and is within the land protected by the Dish with One Spoon Wampum agreement. Today this gathering place is home to many First Nations, Métis, and Inuit peoples and acknowledging reminds us that our great standard of living is directly related to the resources and friendship of Indigenous people.

Vision, Mission, and Principles

Vision
Dedicated to the advancement and exchange of knowledge, the Faculty of Social Sciences is a hub of cutting-edge research and teaching excellence. Equipped with the academic and practical skills to navigate the complexities of the social world, our students are empowered to push boundaries and tackle social justice issues today and in the future from a variety of perspectives.

Principles of equity, diversity, and inclusion—including the effort to Indigenize and decolonize the academy—are integral to our vision and mission.

Mission
We advance knowledge through continued encouragement and support of research excellence.

We actively foster research collaboration across disciplines and engagement with the wider community.

We impart knowledge and critical thinking skills to students through creative and innovative learning opportunities, including a focus on experiential education and community engagement.

We foster transdisciplinarity in the advancement and imparting of knowledge by supporting transdisciplinary collaboration and programming.

We affirm the principles of academic freedom, intellectual integrity, scholarly autonomy, and individual expression in teaching, administration and research. Our internal governance and external partnerships, contracts, funding, and commercial projects respect these principles.

We enrich the larger contexts in which we are embedded, actively engaging with and contributing to our local, national and international communities.

Guiding Values and Principles
The Faculty of Social Sciences is committed to upholding the guiding values of the University, namely:

- Integrity and respect
- A unique student experience
- Freedom of thought and expression coupled with academic responsibility
- The generation and mobilization of knowledge
- Innovation through disciplinary and transdisciplinary scholarly activities
- Inclusivity, diversity, equity
- Reconciliation and decolonization
- Sustainable, accountable, transparent stewardship
The strategic goals for the Faculty of Social Sciences 2021–2026 are:

1. Recruit and retain excellent students.
2. Enhance teaching and research excellence and effective knowledge mobilization within a context of transdisciplinarity.
3. Support the University’s focus on community engagement.
4. Promote equity, diversity and inclusivity with particular focus on Indigenization, reconciliation and decolonization.
5. Foster a respectful workplace environment.

Many of these goals help to scaffold the others; thus, achieving one can help us to achieve others. For example, establishing FOSS as a hub for teaching and research excellence, focusing on equity, diversity, and respect, and creating a culture that celebrates success will enhance our ability to recruit and retain excellent students, staff, and faculty.

The Faculty of Social Sciences recognizes the value of both qualitative and quantitative data to the evaluation of our progress and the accomplishment of our goals.

The following section describes strategies and suggested indicators associated with each goal and identifies the relevant institutional strategic priorities that the Faculty of Social Sciences will help to advance.

Next Steps: Actions and Accountability

Upon approval of the Faculty of Social Sciences Strategic Plan, the Office of the Dean will monitor activities within the Faculty (i.e., the implementation of strategies and accomplishment of measurable objectives) toward the achievement of the stated goals. To avoid duplication of efforts, data related to activities that contribute to the goals named in this strategic plan will be collected and collated from existing reports wherever possible.

Chairs and Directors within each unit may be asked to review and provide additional updates regarding their own Departments and Centres that contribute to the goals named in this strategic plan. A report will be developed for presentation to members of the Faculty Council or at an annual Dean’s Town Hall on the Strategic Plan.

Conclusion

The Faculty of Social Sciences has aligned its strategic plan with the priorities listed in Niagara Roots – Global Reach, Brock University's 2018–2025 institutional strategic plan, and Brock’s Strategic Mandate Agreement (SMA3). Therefore, as we achieve the objectives listed in our Strategic Plan, our success will not only strengthen the Faculty of Social Sciences but will also contribute to the achievement of the University’s goals.
A field experience in a fourth-year Geography and Tourism Studies course yielded fascinating insights into the volume of plastics washing up on Niagara’s beaches and resulted in extensive media attention in the Golden Horseshoe.

Graduate students in the Sustainability Science and Society program visited the Vineland Research & Innovation Centre to build their understanding and experience the practical impacts of research firsthand.

By supporting our academic advisors and implementing feedback on best practices, we better serve our student community.

Encouraging meaningful participation in recruiting events helps attract students with high potential to enrich our community.

Our strong experiential education offerings, such as the transcription of interviews with local community leaders mobilizing poverty reduction funding shown here, supports strategic goals of providing excellent student experiences and enriching the local community.

Ongoing engagement in traditional and innovative recruitment initiatives will be a priority across the Faculty.

FOSS students constantly inspire us with the time, energy, and commitment to key values of the Faculty they show in their volunteer work, as in this effort to prepare 2800 success kits for incoming Brock students.

The Dean of the Faculty of Social Sciences is Brock’s designated Point-of-Contact for a new MOU with the YWCA Niagara Region, where students and researchers will build on existing relationships to support capacity building and community.

Graduate students in the Social Justice and Equity Studies program organized the first Ability Empowerment Day, a daylong conference for high school students to learn about opportunities for students with disabilities to thrive in a post-secondary environment.
