President's Message

A huge congratulations to all the incoming laureates on garnering the prestigious BLCS award!

I would like to personally welcome all of you to the society and to Brock. You have been chosen from among several applicants because of your outstanding achievements in high-school and your potential to achieve even more in university and in your careers! Thus, the society is designed to serve as a platform where student leaders, such as yourself, can collaborate and engage in service projects in the community. The BLCS executive and returning members are also here for you to guide and answer any of your questions as you make the transition to Brock. I strongly encourage all of you to get involved with the society, university and the Niagara community and truly make your undergraduate experience an unforgettable one!

Wish you all the best as you begin your exciting academic journey at Brock University!

Rohan Kothari
President, Brock Leaders
Citizenship Society

BLCS Background

The BLSC is a group of exceptional students recognised for a combination of high academic achievement and personal leadership abilities. These students, prior to attending Brock University, have demonstrated excellence in Arts and/or Sciences and have provided significant citizenship contribution to their community.

BLSC members continue to achieve academic success while utilizing their past leadership abilities to continue to grow, motivate, organize, inspire and create citizenship improvement opportunities for themselves, their members and the University and the surrounding community as a whole.

The members of the BLSC are always looking to become part of large initiatives at Brock. They are dedicated individuals who desire to be part of events in the University and community. Through regular meetings and constant communication, members of the BLCS plan their initiatives and execute them with the leadership abilities that first enabled them to become part of the organization.

Kaitlin Bynkoski

Kaitlin entered Brock University in 2006, she was one of the founding members of the Brock Leaders Citizenship Society (B.L.C.S.) Aaron House the staff administrator for the prestigious group describes Kaitlin as “perfect”. He further explained that “Kaitlin truly embodies both aspects that make the B.L.C.S. so unique, she is a scholar and a well involved citizen in her community. Undoubtedly her time at Brock University was well spent. Not only was Kaitlin the first president of the Brock Leadership Citizenship Society she was also the very first graduate. She graduated spring of this year with an honours in Biomedical Science degree. Kaitlin now attends the University of Waterloo for the professional pharmacy program and upon entering pharmacy school she was the recipient of the Shoppers Drug Mart Canada Wide Scholarship. She is currently a student ambassador for the school and is on the Ontario Pharmacy Association (OPA) committee. At the University of Waterloo she is currently the president of the Society of Pharmacy Students (SOPhS) and the secretary of the Canadian Association of Pharmacy Student and Interns (CAPSI). Her advice for her fellow B.L.C.S. members is simple: “To live life in the spirit of why not!” Kaitlin shined here at Brock University and she has indeed made us very proud. She continues to do exceptionally well at the University of Waterloo, we wish her the very best!
