

Proposed Program Discontinuation
BSc in Computing and Network Communications, offered jointly with Sheridan
College

Posting Date: January 30, 2023

Brock's Department of Computer Science has submitted a Request for Program Discontinuation indicating that it is seeking approval under the Institutional Quality Assurance Processes \(IQAP\) to discontinue the Bachelor of Science in Computing and Network Communications (CNET) program, offered jointly with Sheridan College.

As part of the process, the Request is being made available for the information of the University community, to allow the opportunity for comment prior to moving to the next step in the institutional quality assurance process.

The Request can be viewed here. The posting will remain in place for 21 days--until 4:30 p.m. on Monday, February 20, 2023.

Comments on the above Request must be submitted by Monday, February 20, 2023 via email to the Academic Review Committee, via the Vice-Chair, Brian Power and Department of Computer Science Chair, Brian Ross.

In submitting your response, please include CNET Joint Program Discontinuation in the subject line.