ARC considers the recommendation to explore departmental growth through expansion into new areas to be accepted. ARC considers the recommendation for additional faculty positions to lie outside the Committee's jurisdiction and expects that the Department will proceed through normal channels of advocacy for these resources.

Comments 2019:

The Action Items are on target and achievable or already achieved. The direction of future course development and which new areas we prioritize will be affected by the results of our current search for an ILTA. We are committed to continuing to diversify our curriculum in keeping with this recommendation and setting realistic ambitions due to our small faculty complement.

Recommendation #2

Consultation on future and role of Program Committee (including governance structure and regulations)

ARC Disposition of the Recommendation

ARC considers the recommendation to be accepted and in the process of implementation.

Actions*	Responsibility	Year One	Year Two	Year Three
Action #1 Consultation with core faculty members	Chair	C
Action #2 Revision of Rules and Procedures	Chair and Committee	C

Comments 2019:

The Department’s Rules and Procedures have been revised to reflect the process for faculty members whose home department is not Labour Studies to serve on the Department Committee. The core faculty members did not wish to exclude current and prior members of the Department Committee whose home department is not Labour Studies from serving. As a result, this recommendation is complete and there are no substantive changes to our governance being undertaken, simply a clarification of the process for serving in our Rules and Procedures. We will continue to revisit the Department’s governance structure annually at the summer retreat.

Recommendation #6

Development of a fourth-year variable topics course to enhance fourth-year course offering

ARC Disposition of the Recommendation

ARC considers the recommendation to be accepted. It is expected that the development of a fourth-year variable topics course will be addressed as part of the ongoing curriculum review by the Department. It is noted that "variable" in this case does not refer to current Brock calendar language.

Actions*	Responsibility	Year One	Year Two	Year Three
Action #1 New fourth year course was created and offered.	Department	C

Comments 2019:

As noted, there was some uncertainty about the meaning of variable. By introducing and offering a third 400-level course housed in Labour Studies, we consider this recommendation implemented and complete. Due to faculty numbers and availability, we are not in a position to introduce another 400-level course at this time. We have 400-level Thesis, Seminar, and Directed Study courses in the current calendar which can be enlisted when/if needed.

Comments 2019:

We are very pleased to report on our progress in this area. We have completed a review of the Certificate and the necessary changes for its revival through UPC. We have established the necessary internal 'infrastructure' (discussions with Admissions and Registrar, web site with Q & A for prospective students) and begun to advertise (March) for our revived Certificate with allows greater flexibility for students, including those interested in part-time and/or online learning. The Admissions team has already received queries from prospective students. A three-year ILTA will be beginning July 1, 2019 and integral to the success of the Certificate. We look forward to continuing to provide updates to ARC and the broader University community about this exciting new chapter.

Recommendation #8

Action #2 Involve students at University recruitment events.	Chair	C & O

Comments 2019:

We do not support asking students to do unpaid labour. Therefore, we intend to further discuss the specific reference to students serving as ambassadors in the recommendation at our retreat in June, 2019, along with other strategies for continuing our recruitment efforts with high school students. We involved students in the fall open house (compensated) to allow them to speak directly with prospective students and their families.

Comments 2019:

Our web site now includes clear information about career paths for students including specific areas of potential for employment and future education, alumni testimonials, and a campus to career path link. We also continue to collaborate with the co-op office to ensure students in that stream are aware of the possibilities. We consider this recommendation complete.
